ZEBRA GETS LOOSE IN THE CITY

12 year old Nick Ammons was washing dishes at his parents diner and he saw a zebra casually walking through the parking lot in curiosity he followed it videotaping it for proof in case no one believed him when he lost the zebra he showed his friend Jeremy who suggested he post it on YouTube. Jessica Tradewell ran into the zebra on 13th St. and totaled her Mazda 626 she got out of the car and was relieved to see there was no blood but the zebra's leg was still twitching so she called 911. Dr. Mark Hardt treated the zebra and is happy to say the zebra will live he has some internal bruising and a broken hind leg but other than that he's lucky he'll heal just fine in a couple of weeks. The owner of the zebra George Dowling was very uncooperative with us and may face a penalty for keeping a zebra as a pet he came out to feed the zebra and thought he latched the gate but when he bent over to pour the food the gate banged open and out the zebra ran. The police department made arrangements to transport the zebra to the central Florida Zoo in Stanford from what we know he will be staying there permanently.
